SUMMARIZING YOUR SENSE OF JOHN'S REVELATION OF THE CHRIST'S RETURN

Studying Scripture can be a labor of love, or a labor of tears. Revealing the Revelings of John in Revelation has been both. We have learned about the beauty of God's caring; we have learned about the wrath God exacts for evil. We have seen the Christ tell His called out that some are a synagogue of Satan, and others are so lukewarm in their faith, He wants to spit them out. We have seen the Christ love on the called out—He invites them to come, to drink freely of the tree of life.

Yet, down deep, the study of Scripture resides within the heart, your heart. As said in the beginning of this study—

The success of any Bible study is entirely dependent upon three entities: you, your teacher and Holy Spirit. He therefore exhorts you to study—do your homework; encourage your teacher by prayer and active participation; most importantly, continually pray to Father God for Holy Spirit to guide us as we learn what He taught John 1900+ years ago.

Thus, I think it wise that we summarize our impressions, questions for future study and meditation on Revelation. Hence, these questions—

1. How would you characterize the value of Revelation in your walk with the Lord our God?

2. What is your favorite pericope (verse grouping) in Revelation? Why & how so?

3. If you were to advise a new believer on how to study Revelation, with which one book of the Bible would you advise her/him to start? For example, Genesis, Isaiah, John, Ezekiel, Daniel, etc? How so and why?

---

4. What was the most important thing you learned from our study of Revelation in Digging Deeper?

---

5. What questions do you think believers should pursue when studying Revelation?
